Dear Gentlemen:

It has truly been my pleasure to work with such a dedicated and driven pair of gentlemen as the two of you. To watch such an important facility as the U.S. Veterans Hall of Fame (USVHOF) come to life has been personally rewarding, and still incomparable to the importance of honoring and returning service to our country's military veterans. Those who have given so much of themselves deserve year-round recognition.

I have been honored to watch the vision to come to life and to capture the story of so many. The vicarious experience provided at the USVHOF will provide an excellent education tool and a much-needed support hub of services for those who've lived and served.

Over the past few months reviewing potential sites, problem-solving, and helping to turn the dream into sticks and bricks has been my pleasure. Hopefully, these efforts, as well as the time spent evaluating potential costs will serve as a tool for the USVHOF mission.

I look forward to continuing this mission with two gentlemen who embody the joy of serving others like you both do so well.

Sincerely,

Scott Whelchel
